

BEAUTIFUL HOMES

Nos. 648 and 650 F St. N. E.

NOT A 'BOX' HOUSE.

But a Dwelling, 18x54½ Feet. Lot 100 Feet to 15-ft. Paved Alley.

SEE THEM TO-DAY.

OPEN FROM 9 A. M.
TO 9 P. M.

Convenient to three lines of cars, Union Station, and Government Printing Office.

Front porch, 8x13 ft. Two story back porch. Six large rooms; reception hall. Ceilings 9 feet 6 inches. Pantry, tiled bath, and laundry tubs. Heavy iron girders, and Hardwood trim throughout. Gurney hot-water heating plant. Walls thirteen inches.

Two stories, with cellar under entire building. Attractive front of vitrified brick, with white stone trim; mansard roof, 5-ft. air space; brick and stone approach to front porch; servants' toilet; three-coat finish on all woodwork; large rear yard; gas logs; heavy oak cabinet mantels.

Joseph I. Weller, REALTY BROKER, 602 F St. N. W.

COLUMBUS.

Columbus stood before the Queen, and begged that she would aid him. He was attired in garments mean—no royal tailor made 'em. No clanking sword, no jewels brave, no plumes or braid adorned him. "You need a haircut and a shave," her majesty had warned him. And yet he had a noble mien, as he enchanted kept her: "I beg you, O most noble Queen, to soak your crown and scepter; ransack these stately regal halls and all the basements under; go through your husband's overalls, and hand to me the plunder. I tell you that 'neath yonder sky, where only birds have hovered, some rich and lovely islands lie, that wait to be discovered. And if you'll dig up sundry plunks, all grouchy prophets scorning, I'll pack my Saratoga trunks, and sail to-morrow morning." "In sooth," the stately Queen replied, "thou art a goodly fellow, and I would aid, but, by St. Bride and James of Compostella, thou art some seven hours too late; some agents (drat the varmint!) came to me with a goodly freight of hats and new spring garments—" Columbus gave a little squeal of anguish, deep and bitter, and then he turned upon his heel, for though he was no quitter, he knew it was no use to talk, and walked away disgusted; the Queen had met the agent flock, and so was surely busted.

(Copyright, 1910, by George Matthew Adams.)

WALT MASON.

A THANKSGIVING ODE.

Turkey young,
Turkey old,
Turkey hot,
Turkey cold,
Find a guest.

Turkey tender,
Turkey tough,
Everybody
Eat enough.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE.

Upside down, nose under wife's chin.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Track men at Central are coming along so rapidly that Bill Foley expects to have them in championship form in two weeks. Tech will have their football banquet Friday after Thanksgiving. "Country" Morris will be elected captain of the 1911 football team.

Eastern High School football team has clear title to second position in the scholastic circles. They gained this by beating Cathedral School yesterday.

Davis, Donnelly, and Whitmarsh, of the championship baseball team that business put on the field two seasons ago, will be seen at the Georgetown University this year.

The drop kick that Crane put over from the 45-yard line reminded many of the kicks that Morse, of the G. W. U., used to put over when he played quarter on the championship eleven.

Under the coaching of Bryan Morse, Tech expects to turn out a winning track team this coming winter. Plenty of material is available and some fast runners are at present attending the school.

Sinclair, of Tech, will be a great factor in the sprint for the Blacksmiths, as he can travel some, and under the coaching of Morse should develop into one of the consistent point winners of that school. Cathedral baseball team received a decided boost for the coming season in Davidson, who played first base on the Tame Institute team last season. He is a player of some ability. He played a good game in tackle against Eastern yesterday.

Western received a great boost to their basketball team when Blaine Mallan reported to Capt. McCandish. He played a great game at forward for the quint that represented the Red and White school last year.

The Eastern High School football warriors will receive their letters at the coming banquet that will be given them Friday after Thanksgiving Day. McCaffery or Weaver will be elected captain of the 1911 team.

Business High School quint had its first game, which was with a fast section team of the Inter-section League, which is now running at the Rhode Island Avenue School. The section quint proved to be too fast for the first quint, which was defeated.

Business will lose three men of the present football team next season, as Rathbone, Scott, and Molineau graduate. This will, in all probability, be a serious blow to the Stepanophers, as they will have a hard time replacing such men as these have proven to be in athletics.

Ocean Steamships.

New York, Nov. 23.—Arrived: Oceanic, from Southampton, November 16. Arrived out: Adriatic, at Southampton; Pennsylvania, at Hamburg.

Sailed from foreign ports: Majestic, from Southampton.

A grease that can be made into candles and soap is from the fruit of the African karite tree, which looks like a chestnut.

THE THEATRE TO-DAY

THE BELASCO. "The Mikado," with Fritz Scheff. At 2:35 and 8:15.

THE COLUMBIA. "The Pacha's Widow." At 2:35 and 8:15.

THE NATIONAL. "The Bachelor's Baby." At 2:35 and 8:15.

CHASE. "Polite Vaudeville." At 2:35 and 8:15.

THE ACADEMY. "St. Elmo." At 2:35 and 8:15.

THE GAYETY. "Burlesque." At 2:35 and 8:15.

THE LYCEUM. "Burlesque." At 2:35 and 8:15.

THE CASINO. "Vaudeville and Pictures." Continuous.

THE COSMOS. "Vaudeville and Pictures." Continuous.

THE MAJESTIC. "Vaudeville and Pictures." Continuous.

THE AVENUE GRAND. "Vaudeville and Pictures." Continuous.

THE PLAZA. "Moving Pictures." Continuous.

THE VIRGINIA. "Moving Pictures." Continuous.

THE ALHAMBRA. "Moving Pictures." Continuous.

THE HOWARD. "St. Elmo." At 2:35 and 8:15.

COMING ATTRACTIONS

The Belasco.

Mr. Warner, already having acquired an enviable reputation while appearing in support of Eleanor Robson, (now Mrs. August Belmont), has had his vogue greatly increased, since, under the management of Liebler & Co., he became the star of "Alas Jimmy Valentine," and it is under this alias he will appear all next week at the Belasco Theater. The same support with which Liebler & Co. have surrounded him, including Elsie Leslie, Frank Monroe, and Donald Gallicher, will be seen in Washington. It may be assumed that Washington playgoers are familiar with the fact that "Alas Jimmy Valentine" scored one of the greatest successes of the past two seasons in New York, where, at Wallace's Theater, the thrilling interest of its story drew packed houses and won the unanimous approval of critics. Taking a short story by O. Henry, "A Retrieved Reformation," for his foundation, Paul Armstrong, author of "Alas Jimmy Valentine," has told with true dramatic instinct the story of a remarkable criminal finally redeemed by love for a good woman; and his work is considered a triumph of his career, although he had previously written such successes as "Salome Jane" and "The Heir to the Hoaroh."

The National.

"The Arcadians," which comes to the National next week, is simply three hours of individual life. Every one of the twenty-four musical numbers is a classic of its kind, while there are at least three distinct veins of comedy running throughout the entire production. Aside from the music and the fun of "The Arcadians," there are enough novel details to insure the success of any musical comedy. Miss Julia Sanderson brought the public to her feet by the charm of her voice and the grace of her steps, while Frank Monahan, Percival Knight, Alan Muddie, Connie Edles, Ethel Catman, Mary MacKillo, and the other principals, as well as the orchestra, will put forth their best efforts in songs, making in all a big double holiday show.

The Columbia.

At the Columbia Theater, commencing Monday, November 23, the dramatization of E. P. Roe's great character story, "He Fell in Love with His Wife," which has been dramatized by Edith Ellis, and will be produced for the first time on any stage. The love of Dante for Beatrice, the love of Hamlet for Ophelia, of Abelsa for Hecuba, of Paul for Virginia, and scores of other great, pure loves for decades have been celebrated in songs and story. To these great loves, in later years, has been added another—the love of James Holcroft for Alda Armstrong. In all the stories, either of the novel or the stage, that have ever been written, not one has brought more forcibly to the front the power of great, pure, unselfish spiritual love. In this great story, "He Fell in Love with His Wife," Mr. Roe has developed the old idea and applied it in a manner so powerful as to bring it before his readers almost as a new thought.

Burton Holmes on Passion Play.

The travelogue on the Passion Play of Oberammergau in 1910 to be given Sunday night and Monday afternoon at the Columbia Theater by Burton Holmes will be a splendid picture-record of the play, the place, and the people as seen by Mr. Holmes and his cameras this last summer. Unlike his lectures on the two former plays of 1890 and 1900, he will this time throw special stress upon the pictorial reproduction of the scenes of the play, as he was able to obtain a large number of photographs this year, artistically posed in the original setting, from which he has been able to reproduce lantern slides, which, in their magnificence of coloring, resemble the works of the old masters from whose paintings the actor peasants of Oberammergau have passed many of the principal scenes of the play. Other colored views, as well as numerous motion pictures, will show the village and its people in the midst of the busy scenes of last summer—the most successful season this Bavarian village has ever known.

Chase's.

Chase's next week promises to surpass many previous bills, with a collection of comic, musical, and novel stellar features. Sam Bernard and Miss Marion Garson, with her own supporting comedy in "The Belle of Seville," will be the headliners. This is one of the most recent Broadway successes in which Miss Garson is said to have eclipsed all her previous brilliant efforts. It is the work of Walter Steiner and Ernest R. Ball. The company includes W. H. White, Joseph Milton, and George Bogues, all well-known players, lately identified with leading musical and dramatic organizations playing on Broadway. The locale of the operetta is the White House here, and the cast introduces a coal baron, his daughter, and an alleged Spanish nobleman. The added attraction will be the Ellis-Nowlan company of comedians, grotesques, and pantomimists, presenting "Fun in a Fire House," a travesty far funnier, it is said, than their former "Greatest Show on Earth." It pokes all manner of fun at the fire departments of rustic villages, and is rated as the most screamingly comic act ever produced by this or any other acrobatic comedy organization. Third in importance, but probably nearer top in popular appreciation with respect to numbers of the class, will be Hedges brothers and Jacobson, favorites from "Prisco. A war of wit, which will appeal with especial force to the feminine auditors, will introduce James E. Devlin and Mae Elwood, recent recruits from musical comedy stardom, who will present "The Girl from Yonkers." Phil Staats, the captivating player upon words and keys, will offer chatty accompaniments to deft and droll piano playing. Crouch and Welch, in a breezy dancing duo, are also included in the list. Maximo, the Cuban aerial balancing wonder, and "The Cowboy's Mother-in-law," a pictorial "scream," are the concluding offerings in this strong, well-balanced bill of modern diversions delightful.

The Academy.

"The Montana Limited," with new scenic effects, will be the offering of the Academy next week. It tells an absorbing story of the life of twin brothers whose resemblance is so great that one is arrested for the other's crime and necessarily sentenced to be hanged, when the guilty brother dashes to his aid and is shot by one of his own men, he having been a leader of a gang of cattle rustlers and train robbers. This occurrence is the keynote of the finishing up of the story, which is an intensely interesting one from curtain till curtain.

The Casino.

The vaudeville bill for next week at the Casino Theater contains another novelty for popular priced vaudeville houses. This feature will be the headline act, Kyrogo and his mystics, whose demonstration of Egyptian telepathists and thurmaturgists is said to be amazing. Others in the bill will be Silver and Burke, in a sketch called "Father and Son," Nelson Waring, in an artistic and refined piano act; Cummings and Devery, singing and talking comedians; Mr. and Mrs. La Verne, in a comedy sketch entitled "Hubby's Bluff," Allen brothers, acrobatic comedians and instrumentalists. The performance will be rounded out by the usual display of motion pictures.

The Gayety.

At the Gayety next week will be the Hastings Big Show, a gathering of vaudeville and burlesque artists, presenting the burlesques, "A Night at the Club" and "A Trip to the Golden West." A large and select company of beautiful lady stars and eminent comedians, also the pick of the vaudeville stage. Among this grand collection of artists we are pleased to hear of the appearance of the beautiful and talented artist, Miss Viola Sheldon, whose name is familiar to all theatergoers here, and who made such a great impression for the past five seasons with the Hastings Big Show. The other members of this company are big favorites here.

The Lyceum.

Opening next Monday matinee and continuing twice daily for the remainder of the week with the "Tiger Lilies" company and Matt Kennedy, "Everybody's Favorite," is the announcement for the New Lyceum Theater next week. Besides an opening and closing burlesque of unusual merit, and a vaudeville bill par excellence, there is the added attraction, Zallah, "The Dancing Venus," which announcement alone is enough to fill the house at every performance. Not forgetting the "Tiger Lilies" girls, a good thirty of them.

The Majestic.

Only two of the five feature acts have been announced by the management for next week's show. The feature, Curtis Cowper, assisted by Nekama Phillips and company, in his own playlet, entitled "A Cowboy's Courtship." It is a cowboy sort of playlet, with a scene in an adobe shack on the Texas frontier, Lin Buckley (Mr. Cowper) is a puncher, who is in love with Bertie (Harriet Nekama Phillips), a girl who has traveled to the shack in the guise of a boy, being captured on the way by Mendoza (Jack McCabe). A special set is used adding greatly to the act. The other act, so far announced, is Murphy and Le Mar, eccentric comedians.

The Plaza.

Appropos of the day, "His Mother's Thanksgiving," will be shown as an extra attraction at the Plaza to-day. Another feature will be "The Song of the Wildwood Flute," a splendid Indian Biograph picture. Messrs. Harkins and Wallace will put forth their best efforts in songs, making in all a big double holiday show.

The Cosmos.

Among the acts announced for to-day's mid-week change in the Cosmos bill, Nicodemus and Sumner are, perhaps, the best-known and most promising act. Ed and Nettie Massey, another pair of "old-timers," will be seen in their funny juggling sketch, "Fun in a Dining Room." Brown and Fallardeau have a novelty entitled "Watch the Cigarette," the Langs, modern Hercules gymnasts, play a return engagement, and Rose Stanley, a singing comedienne, with original ideas, complete the list of new arrivals. Herrman the Great and company of magicians will be retained for the full week, and will appear each afternoon and evening.

The Arcade.

Plans have been completed for the Thanksgiving celebration at the Arcade, Fourteenth street and Park road northwest, this evening, and one of the most interesting cards of the season is anticipated.

The New Howard.

Miss Clara Turner will open an engagement at the New Howard Theater on Monday, November 23, in Owen Davis' success of "Anita, the Singing Girl," to be followed the next week with Lillian Mortimer's Southern drama of "A Girl's Best Friend." This clever little comedienne makes her first Washington appearance supported by her players, who for the past thirty weeks have been at Hart's Theater, in Philadelphia. That this little comedienne will be sure to please the patrons of the New Howard goes without saying, as she has been "tagged" "everybody's favorite" the country over. Seats will be sold in advance, owing to the heavy demand that will be had for the best locations during this engagement.

LEHIGH MEN CONFIDENT.

Alumni to Cheer Eleven Against Georgetown to-day.

Determined that the Lehigh spirit shall be much in evidence at to-day's football game against Georgetown, an enthusiastic mass meeting was held by members of the Southern Lehigh Alumni Association last night at the University Club.

Coach Rieger, of the Lehigh eleven, gave the graduates a straightforward talk on what they should do to help win the day for their alma mater, and told them that the team would do their part.

Capt. Black was enthusiastically greeted and made a brief address.

Prof. Winter L. Watson, '87, of the Lehigh faculty; J. E. Watson, '81, and A. E. Phillips talked for the alumni and urged that all former students be at the game. The Lehigh team did not attend the smoker, as they were ordered to retire early. Toward the end of the evening a buffet supper was served.

Future of the Negro.

There will be a mass meeting to-night at the Galbraith A. M. E. Zion Church, Sixth street, between L and M streets northwest. Rev. Dr. S. L. Corrothers will deliver an address on the "Future of the Negro," with reference to the negro race. Bishop Alexander Walters, of New York; W. H. Trotter, of Boston; W. Calvin Chase, of Washington; Thomas L. Jones, Dr. Waldrow, pastor of the South Baptist church, and others will address the meeting.

That's What I Wanted

Pabst Famous
Milwaukee Beer—

the beer with the taste and zest that reach the spot.
The beer that arouses your appetite when you sense the aroma of it.

Good to look at—its color a perfect amber.
Good to drink—a delightful after-taste.
Good for you—strengthens, and aids digestion.

Pabst Milwaukee Beer

comes to you in an attractive bottle, its clear amber contents sparkling and inviting. Low in percentage of alcohol—with a full mellow flavor and a soft smooth taste—it satisfies every expectation.

Look for the Pabst trade-mark on each and every bottle—it insures purity, quality and satisfaction.

Why not order a case sent home today? Phone

Pabst Brewing Co.,
703-705 N. Capitol Street, N. E.
Telephone Lincoln 1431

SUBURB WANTS FIRE HOUSE.

Chevy Chase Citizens Ask District for Appropriation.

Citizens of Chevy Chase believe their community deserves better fire protection, and have asked the Commissioners for an appropriation to erect a fire house. In a letter to the Commissioners, E. D. Ryerson says the suburb is just as much entitled to an engine house as the other suburbs about Washington. "In the event of a fire," he says, "we could not expect to receive assistance from Tennytown, the nearest engine, for at least seven minutes."

The Commissioners say that it is impossible for Chevy Chase to get a fire house this year, as the budget for 1911 is already in the hands of the Secretary of the Treasury. It is the opinion of the Commissioners that with the volunteer apparatus they have in Chevy Chase they could hold a fire in check until the Tennytown company would arrive. Chief Wagner was of the same opinion.

Magazine Illustrator Ends Life.

New York, Nov. 23.—Charles Grunwald, Jr., magazine illustrator, committed suicide by inhaling gas at his home, 529 Fifth street, Brooklyn, on Tuesday afternoon. He had suffered for some months from melancholia, following a nervous breakdown last spring. He was forty-three years old.

PLATE PRINTERS GIVE BALL.

Attendance Breaks All Records at National Rifles Armory.

The tenth annual ball of the plate printers' apprentices, of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, was given last evening in the National Rifles Armory. The dancers filled the hall to overflowing and the attendance broke all records. The reception committee was composed of Joseph Johnson, chairman; John Dwyer and John Sullivan. The floor committee comprised John Sullivan, chairman; Christopher A. Manco, and Joseph Johnson. The terpsichorean revelry continued until an early hour this morning.

A Night Message

Have you ever been called to the corner telephone when your going made necessary a walk through rain or snow? The Bell Telephone
often saves in one night the cost of service for a year.

The Chesapeake and Potomac
Telephone Company

Call Main 9000 for Rates.

